Telephone Number Portability)

CC Docket No. 95-116
NSD File No. L-98-89

Request for Withdrawal of Petition for Waiver of Telecommunications of Nevada, L.L.C.

On June 12, 1998, NEXTLINK California, L.L.C., NEXTLINK Utah, L.L.C., NEXTLINK Georgia, Inc., NEXTLINK Tennessee, L.L.C.¹, and Telecommunications of Nevada, L.L.C (collectively "the Applicants" or "NEXTLINK") requested waivers of the implementation deadlines set by the Federal Communications Commission ("Commission") for long-term Local Number Portability ("LNP") in the Las Vegas, Nevada; San Francisco, Orange County and Oakland, California; Salt Lake City, Utah; Atlanta, Georgia; and Nashville and Memphis, Tennessee Metropolitan Statistical Areas ("MSAs") and waiver of the sixty (60) day in advance notice requirement for extension of the Phase I and III implementation deadlines.

As a result of administrative error, the Las Vegas MSA was incorrectly included in NEXTLINK's June 12th waiver request. NEXTLINK hereby withdraws its request that the Commission extend the implementation deadlines for LNP in the Las Vegas MSA and waive the 60 day in advance notice requirement for extension of the Phase III implementation deadline for the Las Vegas MSA.

¹ First Report and Order and Further notice of Proposed Rulemaking, In the Matter of Telephone Number Portability, CC Docket No. 95-116, RM 8535, rel. July 2, 1996 ("First Report and Order").

As SPRINT correctly asserts in its comments, NEXTLINK has conducted and completed inter-carrier testing with SPRINT in Las Vegas.² NEXTLINK has turned up LNP service in the Las Vegas MSA, as scheduled, on June 30th and is fully compliant with the Commission's LNP implementation requirements.

Respectfully Submitted,
